C. F. HAYES,
Business Manager.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1909.

At a recent meeting of the Bishop Wuckland guilds in London the following resolution was submitted:
"That a committee be appointed to inquire into the special accommodation of dukes, that it be of an ornate and castellated type of architecture, and built of marble, to reminde them of the marble halls in which they formerly dwelt, and that their creature comforts be studied by the management of a French hotel, that Lord Londonderry be respectfully asked to supply them with groceries, in return for the many serious educational remarks that they have provided for the children of the poor working men, and as we are responsible for the soul as well as for the body, that a chaplain be appointed to look after their moral, religious and spiritual welfare."

Mutual Wives: "One of the curiosities of the English campaign is that while Lord Rosebery's resistance was being accepted by the Liberal league, and the Liberal "No-Prussians" was telling the Liberals of the Liberal Campaign, that if the Lords threw out the Budget, "the Liberal party need have no fear, because it would be standing on ground which, from a constitutional point of view, was impregnable. It is curious how frequently it occurs that Gladstone was a rare institution of the reverse, and Victor Hugo is perhaps another, that men, who in their generous youth, as was Lord Rosebery, in sympathy with the people and all that makes for their uplifting, become in their later years more and more wedded to things as they are. If it were not for the young the world would not move. If it were not for the old it would have no balance, but our sympathies are with progress. British political opponents are not infrequently the latest private friends." Gladstone's brother, Sir John, was a consistent Tory, and Lord Rosebery even now has a better dinner in private life than the Liberal.
"Asquith. Why should men be en-mies for opinion's sake, especially when the difference is an honest one?"

The Opposition will be in the dumps when the House meets. The imports continue to grow, and this is an unfolding sign of national decadence, proof unanswerable that we are on the steep path of fiscal folly and headed for the abyss. It is a curious doctrine that the more one gets the poorer he is. Individually no one believes it or practices it. Certainly the gentleman who met extensively advocate the theory do not do it each other. The remedy it seems is not designed for individual use. It is effective only when applied to the mass.
Some hardened opponents among us will find it hard to believe that what is considered bad for the individual should be good for the nation. So runs the teaching, however. There is this to be said for the theory, that it is held tenaciously in the face of very disappointing circumstances. The country which, according to the theory, is going to the dogs and has been for this many years, is richer today than ever before and on the eve of greater development than was ever contemplated before. To realize this future, individuals, including those who lament the growth of imports, are putting in all their have and all they can borrow, with little enough thought that they are contributing to the decline. They are banking on the future of the country. The nation is doing precisely the same. As a people we are by our efforts expending the only try with the machinery for industrial and commercial operations on a gi-gantic scale. If, for the time being, the value of the imports is considered in excess of what we have to sell, the difference is not being squandered, but is going, in a thousand forms, into reproductive capital. So long as the margin is used thus we need not worry about the excess of the imports over the exports.

THE OCEAN TELEGRAPH.

It is announced that the British Government has secured from the Marconi company a transfer of all their coast stations, plant, buildings, machinery, land and lease, and all the rights secured in the company by license in respect of these stations.
The Government also secures the rights to all the existing Marconi patents and improvements for a term of fourteen years.

In connection with this it is interesting to note that from Port Arthur a recent report from Hon.
L. P. Broderick minister of marine, has the government will not give a license to the United Wireless Telegraph Company of Cleveland, Ohio, to build a station at Port Arthur, for which arrangements had been made between the council and the company.
The government's intention is to retain the station and the communication and Mr. Broderick states that it is likely three stations, enough to protect shipping, will be built about the great lakes in the next couple of years.

The purpose of those governments is no doubt in the original to secure control of telegraphic communication for military and naval purposes. It would mean much, for illustration, to Britain, if at the outbreak of war the government held control of all the wireless stations along the coast with which communication could be kept up with the fleets and with countries across the seas. At the same time the new will-allowance sent among those who hope for a cheapening of ocean telegraphic communication, and this should include everybody in the country. Cheap telegraphic service with the Old Land will mean more business between Britain and Canada, and a more active business between the two countries. In old Canada news services in Canadian papers, and better Canadian services in old Canada news services.
The benefits would result if cheaper services were established between the western destinations. To lay cables or to lay those already laid would involve a tremendous amount of money, and there does not seem much hope of getting a cheaper service except under Government ownership or supervision. The initial cost of cables is the astounding figure. The accession of the Marconi system by the British Government with the reverting of the business in Canada by our government should make the much-to-be-desired object attainable.

Geo. Bradbury, M. P.

of SELKIRK, Manitoba

upon being interviewed by a reporter of the DAILY NEWS of Nelson, B. C., said:

"I have traveled a good deal but never have I seen anything to equal the trip down to the Arrow Lakes from Arrowhead. The scenery is truly wonderful. I saw and I am sure would be the best of the thousands of others were the tide of tourist travel directed this way. All that is required is the proper advertising and additional facilities for traffic to make this one of the most popular summer resorts in the world. One of the chief needs, if I may be permitted to make a suggestion, is a first-class tourist hotel such as the C.P.R. maintains at other points, and I think Nelson is the place for it."

That is the kind of a country we are inviting you to come and the farmer should do to rid his farm of this pest, but the practical action offered by the Dominion and Provincial departments of agriculture is probably the most appropriate.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture has sent out advance copies of the revised edition of Farm Weeds of Canada. It has been published in response to demand from farmers and others who desire the book for their personal use, and to the extent of the copies available, it is being sent out free of charge. The book is well illustrated, in their nature, and contains 162 pages of text.
On account of the unusual cost of such a production, it is provided that the book is to be loaned to the department, that is printed for general distribution, and the book is to be now available to Canada (except single copies only), at the office of the government printing bureau, Ottawa, at the nominal price of $1.

Assistance by the Provincial Government of Agriculture is taking the form of placing at the disposal of farmers cheap containing specimens of the weeds most prevalent and most obnoxious to the farmer.
By having access to these facts the farmer may learn to what extent his farm is overrun with weeds and may take action accordingly.

THURSDAY'S GRAIN MARKETS.

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Liverpool was 3 1/2 to 4c lower, and the wheat trend of the markets on this continent was

The market was very quiet, and with a slight upward reaction at the

IS NATIONAL LIFE TO BE OF HIGH STANDARD?

Powerful Appeal to Gathering at Mascon, Depicting the Dangers Which Best Citizens in Their Moral and Intellectual Development.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Addressing a large gathering of Mascon last night at the Postmaster's residence, Dr. Augustus T. Freed of Hamilton made a powerful appeal for the maintenance of a high standard in Canadian National Life.

"When I am these things I tremble for the future of my country," said he at the closing of a warning against admission into Canada of European immigrants. "If these people come into the country, the standard of life must go backward, instead of forward. The Canadian officials did maintain a watch at the port of entry but this was not enough."

The danger of admitting such immigrants to the privilege of the franchise was emphasized. In many cases they were people who could not speak the language, who were not only unfamiliar with the responsibilities of British citizenship, but who had to wait twenty-one years before obtaining franchise.

Guard Common Schools.

"Above all we must guard our common schools," he said, continuing. "From the little log school house on under is an academy for the teaching of the British language. The common school must stand by and preserve civil rights which in centuries of conflict our fathers had wrung from the tyrants of kings of England. Canadian schools must stand by the mother country. It is possible that time will come when the mother country and we are at war. I know that I shall never see her. I hope you will never see hers."

Will Assist State Lottery.

Paris, Nov. 4.—The first drawing of the first French state lottery was held last night. One million franc prize being won by ticket 12001 of series A. After the date for the eighth drawing in 1936 has been settled, at the end of 1936, the lottery will be abolished.

Arrested in Germany.
Berlin, Nov. 5.—Martin Kaufman, of New York City, was arrested here today on a charge of fraudulently obtaining $100,000 from Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Soviet spy, who had been arrested in New York last May.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—The formal resignation of H. L. Drayton, K.C., of New York City, was received here today. Drayton had been named as counsel for the company at the Edmonton Opera House this week. The statement will be made to the company by the agent, to remove Drayton from the center of the stage, and to replace him by a less diverse counsel, would be to make the company mediocre to a certain extent. But while Drayton is the manager, and the company is the company, there is no discounting any of the principal, save the youthful, tenor Charles Constant, who during his performance here so far, has either been suffering from a severe cold or simply an inexperienced and uninterested singer, and an injustice to the company. There has been no one else named in Edmonton, where James Stevens would be called upon to yield the palm. He more than makes good his place in the company and the company's success. The company's success, while not a good voice as her partner, has a decidedly attractive voice. Stevens, which marked her first performance in Edmonton. But to be turn to Drayton. This clever little English Canadian attains the success he does by his close attention to his work. Both he and Mrs. Webb are the most consistent students, and it is their attitude and facility for assimilating the various parts in a piece that holds the fabric together, and keeps things going smoothly. Drayton Webb has won a place in the musical comedy world which does not admit the removal of his hand covering to any of his contemporaries.

TOYMAKER TONIGHT.

Though local audiences have grown of previous presentations of The San Francisco Opera Company's production of "The Toy Maker," it has yet to be seen by the many residents of Edmonton for tonight's performance. As played by "The San Francisco Opera Company," "The Toy Maker" has some really high music, is full of good fun and as a spectacular offering, it creates any thing offered in the local show house. Opening in a mammoth manner, the voice of Marlene Stevens ably backed up by the male chorus furnishes a start in the musical number that have no disappointments throughout.

the two acts and four scenes. Drayton Webb as Johannes Goggenheim, the "most wonderful twentener," is doubtless the most find many back here that would be pleased to star for Mabel Day in as near perfect in the part of Kees, daughter of the Toy Maker.

CORRESPONDENCE

MORINVILLE HAS A PROBLEM.

Editor Bulletin.
Sir.—Will you kindly allow me a little space in your paper in order that I may bring before the taxpayers of Morinville a condition of affairs which is as unusual financially as it is unprecedented.

It has come to my notice that the council is making mistakes in so far as authority to borrow the sum of $2,000, ostensibly to pay off old debts. Any business man will declare this absurd, and no banking institution would for a moment consider such a transaction.

The village is already heavily in debt, contrary to the village ordinance, which specifies that all debts contracted shall be paid during the same year. After that debt could be made in this debt if the large amount of outstanding taxes were to be collected. In such a case it would be unnecessary to settle the village with a larger debt at a high rate of interest.

In making inquiries in connection with this matter I was shown the ledger of the village, which will generally interest the ratepayers.

Edmonton, October 28th, 1920.
Under St. Germaine, East Secretary, Treasurer Village of Morinville.
Sir.—We are in receipt of your letter of the 21st inst., advising us that the request for permission to incur a debt of $2,000 is mainly for the purpose of paying old debts, but it is hardly understood why a request of this kind should be made when there is such a large amount of the village for arrears of taxes, as it would be in order for the council of the village to take some action towards collecting those arrears of taxes and pay up their debts in this way (see Secs. 45 and 46 of the Village Act) rather than by asking for authority to borrow money.

I might also point out that it is not the intention of the Act that authority to borrow money should be given for the purpose of paying debts incurred under such circumstances. Further, you will note that Section 34 of the Act provides that no money should be borrowed on the credit of the village except in anticipation of collection of taxes for the year. It being the intention that all sums so borrowed should be paid before the end of the year, last year village appears to have a large amount outstanding for debt of last year.

I may say further that the manner in which the business of the village has evidently been carried on by the council is altogether irregular, as they have absolutely no authority to incur any debt, such as they evidently have incurred, without submitting the matter to the ratepayers and obtaining authority from them. The Minister of Public Works to incur such a debt.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN STOKES.

Dputy Minister.

Four days after the writing of the above letter by the Deputy Minister of Public Works, and by which time, we are informed, the council had received the same, a resolution was put forward by one of the council to the effect that the $2,000 be borrowed from private persons, if it could not be secured by debentures.

Now, this appears to be acting in direct opposition to the wishes of the Department as set forth in the letter of October 28th, and also to the reading of the Village Ordinance, which allows a village to make a temporary loan to the amount of about half of the total assessment. If I can read correctly this village has already made some irregular loans and can not legally proceed any further in that direction.

Since it is evident, therefore, that at least some of the council are unwilling to observe the reading of the statute law as regards the running of the affairs of this village, and that they seem determined to plunge the ratepayers into a turmoil of financial disaster, the action would be received with exceeding satisfaction if the Minister of Public Works were to have the secretary's books audited and the village disorganized. This action would be perfectly within the powers of the Minister and would save the ratepayers of Morinville a lot of trouble. Yours truly,

A RATEPAYER.

Morinville, November 3.
